

I am concerned about the plan that Fox TV has to air a one-sided film against John Kerry. The film, Stolen Honor, should be either 1) considered a political advertisement, and treated according to FEC rules, or 2) should be accompanied by a balanced perspective on the other side.

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force stations like my local Fox station, WMSN, to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair's and Fox's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them.

Thank you.
